

THE INNIS HERALD

Vol. XVIII No. 1

INNIS COLLEGE - UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Sept. 5 /84

INTRODUCING THE ICSS

by Pierre Blum

As the new school year opens, several faces should become readily familiar to new and old Innis students alike. These are the faces of the Executive of the Innis College Student Society (ICSS).

This year's President is Scott Burk, an approachable, enthusiastic student who emerged victorious from this year's ICSS election with or without the help of his comment regarding the lack of student participation and the over-reliance on impersonal posters used to advertise events.

Commented Burk, "I don't listen to my mother, so why should I listen to a poster."

Scott now wishes to apologize — to his mother — the rest of his statement remains true. His commitment to an open door policy and the example he has set of being so eager and motivated will hopefully spread to all facets of student life at Innis.

Scott is confident that "this year's Orientation will be well attended by both new and returning students." In particular, he wishes to emphasize a unique feature of Innis' Orientation: the weekend at the Innisfree Farm, near Woodstock, Ontario.

Another very visible member of the ICSS Executive is Vic Chiasson, Vice President of Services. Vic's goal is to establish a close working relationship with all Innisites in order "to raise student participation in all aspects of social, cultural, and athletic life."

Vic's message is that he is "open to all suggestions as to what to offer students." His hope is to maintain a unity between all students, be they commuting or in residence, so as to make Innis "a home away from home."

This year's Vice President of Government is Scott Nichol, most famous for his belief in the bare facts of school life. On a more serious note, Scott could prove to do an excellent job in the area of chairing the ICSS meetings. Scott's outgoing personality will breath new life in to what might otherwise be a rather administrative role.

Michelle Baily, Orientation chairperson and the rest of the Orientation committee have planned a huge party/BBQ for September 6 on the back green, and they hope that it will be well attended by all Innis students, new or returning. Be there or be square.

Fuzz Says:

Innis Vision 20/20 is coming. Get all the details in the October edition of the Innis Herald. Don't miss it.

THE INNIS MAN

Dear Nude Student,

O.K. First thing we're going to do for you here at Innis is get you some clothes. So, what do you like? Who cares. You're at Innis, kid. You wear what we like.

We like tight pants that accentuate that new wave knock-kneed look you've been working on all summer. The desired effect is angularity in the extreme. A swastika should look curvaceous by comparison.

Let's talk footwear. What do your feet wear? Who cares. We like shoes with a potential for violence. Spurs, spikes, studs — that's what we're after. No bells, no tassles — no hassles.

The torso. We like it attached to the abdomen. No hair on the chest? Gct some. Fuzz'll give you some. For a price. But that's life at Innis, kid. Everything costs. Don't ask how much. You don't want to know. And don't check your fees, schedule. The price of glory ain't listed there.

We like sweat. Not that fresh, fragrant athletic stuff. Old sweat. The stuff that frosts the armpits of your trendy T shirts like the rings of Saturn. The key word is pungent. That goes for hair. Forget shampoo. Hair should be a solid, moving mass, — throbbing with a voluptuous life all its own. Easy, easy, down boy. You're not ready for us. Yet. Eyebrows raised? Tongue on the floor? Pull yourself together. What do you think this is, some kind of game? This is business.

Let's talk accessories. You got safety pins? Skinny ties? Razor blades-on-a-chain? Don't make me laugh. That's history. And that's boring. So what's left? Plenty. A bottle of hooch and a ball point pen. Understate, kid, always understate.

"So," you say in your newly-found, gravel-edged whisper, "I strike the lean silhouette, I talk the green streak, I carry the mean necessities. What I need now is a woman." Don't take this too hard, son, but for what you need, you're gonna have to wait. The Innis Woman has not yet been revealed. Sit back, relax. Take it slow. Take it solo. Next Herald, she'll be there. Ciao.

THE INNIS WOMAN

Last month the fashion and etiquette editors of the Innis Herald took a long hard look at the Innis Man. Surely you remember him — the guy with the spazzed-out legs and the antique sweat? This month, Mademoiselles Fairhair and Allbright request the pleasure of your company as they reveal, with quiet pride, that rare flower, The Innis Woman.

Listen up, girls, this one's for you. Now this may sound a trifle tough, but the first thing you must remember is that the Innis woman wouldn't touch the Innis man with a barge pole. He's icky, for God's sake. Any upwardly mobile young female can see that. He's socially inept, if not downright hostile, and his earning power potential is poignantly low. Granted, he has his uses and can, with the proper training, become quite efficient at fetching coffee, photocopying class notes, and securing a lunchtime table at the pub. But these skills, however endearing, are really neither here nor there.

The Innis woman's relationship is essentially a bad idea unless tightly controlled by a strong feminine hand and this is owing to the one striking feature of the Innis male psyche which we feel was clearly drawn out in last month's portrait. Innis men are insufferably romantic. If they're not in their rooms, practicing up on world-weary comments to make in class, they're wearing their ridiculously long hair in ponytails. Or, (and we shudder en masse at this one), wearing their ridiculously long feet in sandals. Sandals, for God's sake, sometimes even with ridiculously long socks!

And they Fall In Love. Constantly. They moon, they sigh and the real chronics write poetry. Which they will insist on presenting to you; fully expecting to hear your little heart go pit-a-pat. Really, it's most embarrassing. Better to get your own coffee than to risk such awkward moments. Wouldn't you agree? Of course you would.

To reiterate: The Innis man is out. Who's in? The professionals of course. Doctors, lawyers, the occasional professor — these go without

by Lola Fairhair and Connie Allbright reprinted from the Innis Herald Archives saying. But remember, these are tough times in which we live and even the most high-minded among us may be forced to skip down from the clouds and face the facts. Don't be afraid to start thinking Pharmacy, Optometry, and, if toenail clippings in the bed don't bother you, there's always plenty of engineers to go around. But at least make sure the guy has secured a healthy OSAP loan, — big enough for the both of you and your best friend. Hold on to your own loans, girls; Bay Day's coming. And if there's any left over, an RRRP is always an excellent idea. But speaking of Bay Day (it's so hard not to think of the Bay), Ashley China on Bloor Street is having a divine sale on discontinued Rosenthal. Why waste money on books when you can make those crucial additions to your Hope Chest?

And while you're at Ashleys, by all means stop by Sportables for that oh-so-fetching (the key word is 'fetching') Fall Preppy. You don't have to actually be a browner to look like one. Those oversized V-necked sweaters look cute on just about anyone. Match 'em up with a swiny kilt or two (got Mom's Chargex? No — problem — but make sure you have a note, they're pretty fussy about that). Add little-girl knee socks, penny loafers and an Echo scarf for an attempt at sophistication and Voila! That Big Man On Campus is so close you've almost got a joint checking account already.

After all girls, when all's said and done, what are we really here for? Why, it seems like only yesterday we had the privilege of hearing the great Cathy Ann Debrasue respond to that very question. A bunch of us were swapping diet tips in Holt Renfrew's tea room when some poor little fool, seized no doubt by a vision of the future and all it's wonderful mysteries, blurted out, "Cathy Ann, what are you going to U of T for?" Well, old Cathy Ann just fixed those Ultrafrost Zircon-blue eyes on the little wimp, and said, with that spine chilling mixture of candour and claws that made her the role model for these fashion and etiquette editors, "What am I going to U of T for? What else, pinhead? A husband."

The Innis Herald is published monthly by the Innis College Student Society and printed at Walter Publishing Company Ltd. The opinions expressed herein are attributable only to their authors. Letters to the editor should be addressed to The Editor, The Innis Herald, Innis College, 2 Sussex Ave., Toronto, Ont. M5S 1J5

Editor-in-Chief
News Editor
Review Editor
Sports Editor
Staff

Mike Zryd
Pierre Blum
Jill Adamson
Vic Chaisson
Fred Mott
Andre Czegledy
Chris Fabbri

Good Intentions

September is a great time for plans. Whether you want to go to fitness classes everyday or spend 8 hours (minimum) on homework every night, our best laid plans seem to fall to the wayside, as the white space on our calendars is overcome by black ink and coffee stains. Too often, we abandon our plans altogether or become so frantic and overworked that we risk heart failure at 23. And in the end both we and what we've committed ourselves to suffer.

And life's a bitch and then you die, right? No, but fair warning is here given by the Herald wisdom bureau.

Where our lack of planning, foresight and perspective can really catch us up is in student government. The promises we make in May are too often forgotten over the summer and suddenly you are caught with a title after your name and not the slightest clue what to do. Two ICSS Executive positions have already been vacated and, no doubt, a few Council spots will open up. It is not that good intentions go to rot; very simply people's priorities and sense of their own capabilities change.

The people who remain, though, have to think about their responsibilities and steel themselves to face the commitment they have given to the College. Inevitably, no amount of foresight will guarantee success but thought never goes to waste.

To preserve our idealism and energy, we have to go back to first principles: government and, indeed, any Innis service must be directed for the community. That means government for and by the people of Innis. This is where involvement becomes so important.

Government best serves the community by encouraging us to partake of what it offers. Student government, Clubs, Sports and, yes, newspapers will only be as strong as the community that feeds them. Innis awaits.

When do I register if my name is $-\cdot 4 = 1$ \div rd$?$

John says Hi!!

Welcome:

The College is 20 years old this year and we will celebrate its birthday with special events and occasions. The Herald will carry all the details.

If you are new to Innis, I urge you to join the activities planned for Orientation week, make new friends and get to know the College. The people in the Registrar's office will help you through the paperwork, give you advice about programs and courses, and help you with your problems. The ICSS will help you with your social life.

If you are an old hand, you know the ropes (and, more importantly, Fuzz); help the first years out. Just remember: be careful out there. Have a good year.

John W. Browne
Principal

Attention: Urban and Environmental Studies Students

In an attempt to give comprehensive coverage and analysis of Innis College events, concerns and moods, we are currently expanding our contact with the College's Cinema program and Toronto's film community. Urban and Environmental Studies deserve the same commitment and energy but only you can provide it. If you have any ideas for stories on recent developments in your field that Innis students would be interested in or even if you choose to look inward at the programs themselves, get in touch with us. We're above the Pub - Room 305 in Old Innis- and are always receptive to good ideas and enthusiasm. Do it.

CALLING ALL GRADUATES!

Confused about whether you will actually graduate in June 1985?

Attend informational sessions on degree requirements September 12 at 3:00 pm or September 19, at 4:00pm in Room 222, Innis College.

So. Think you can do a better job, eh? Knock this newspaper off my shoulder. I dare you.

Innis Herald staff meeting
Free coffee and donuts
Friday, Sept. 14 1-4 pm

Come up to Room 305 above the Pub and meet the Herald staff. Bring your ideas, criticisms and enthusiasm; we'll bring the munchies. Literacy preferred but not essential.

Aesthetic differences among Herald staff:
Fred: What's going to be the next masthead quote?
Mike: How about, "A single petal of a rose...?"
Fred: let's cut out this artistic crap, OK?

"I would rather eat bark."

Jill Adamson, on advertising.

Can you fill these seats??

Every Innis College student has a vote on the ICSS (the Innis College Student Society). Come to meetings, find out what your executive representatives are doing and make your criticisms and support heard.

Positions Open
on the ICSS

Social representative
Education representative

Date of Elections pending ICSS Meeting nominations available in room 116

REVIEW~

Wanted: Writers

The Herald needs reviewers, writers with critical ability, those who will not fall asleep half-way through a movie or play. Drop into the Herald office (Room 305) and ask for Jill Adamson, or just leave your name and phone number on the bulletin board. We will need people for the next issue of the Herald.

WRITE FOR THE INNIS HERALD

Wanted: Distribution Manager

Got a car? Help distribute the paper on campus once a month. Cet your hands dirty with the Herald.

M O N E Y

Earn it as the Innis Herald's Advertising Manager. Come up to the office and we'll talk terms. No experience necessary, just initiative and insatiable desire for clean crisp bills...

DARING THE WILDS OF VLAD

by Pierre Blum

Lurking in the shadows at 651 Spadina lies a house bathed in mystery and fear. Behind the walls of this haunted house live the "inmates" of the Innis College Residence, Vladimir House.

Vlad plays host to 43 students, all who must pay homage to their tyrant, the House Manager. This school year will see a rookie, Michelle Bailey, carrying the whip as she replaces the graduating Louise Sharp.

The past year saw a new era of positive Vlad-Innis relations ushered in under the guidance of Louise, and Michelle is confident that this course of action will continue.

Students at Vladimir House will have no excuse not to be full participants in all of Innis College's activities. The only exceptions will be those who have been victimized by botulism at the Stub Lane Pub, where Vlad has its meal plan. But under Fuzz's guidance, this seems highly unlikely.

So the word is out. All Innis students are encouraged to navigate the concrete jungle and dare the wilds of Vlad. Camouflage pants and machetes are optional.

INNIS SPORTS

by Vic Chiasson

A new year once again! Welcome back to you vets and a hardy welcome to first years.

As the debut of your college newspapers' sport section, this is the part where all the athletic info is passed along to you.

Sports here at UT and Innis are run at several levels. The first level is varsity competition. The next is the U of T Intramural leagues. It is at this level that the ICSS is most active. The intramural program offers many sports at several levels of competition and Innis is represented in most sports. The final level is recreational. Our Co-ed Director, Andre Czegledy, handles this level.

The fall sports that Innis competes in are: Mens Tackle Football (the Crimson Tide: Simon Cotter, team rep), Mens Soccer (the Royals: J.C. Fuller, team rep), and Womens Soccer and Basketball (team reps have not been picked). There is also a good chance of having a Mens Touch Football team if players wish.

Other sports offered by U of T Intramurals in the Fall but not participated in by Innis are Lacrosse and Rugger. If anybody wishes to compete in these sports, they may enter a "players pool" and will be selected to play on an existing team.

In any event, if you're interested in playing for your college in the intramural leagues, sign the sheets in the front foyer during the Orientation Week. Practices generally start during the first week of classes with games beginning in late September.

Remember, this is YOUR college newspaper and this is YOUR college sports section. Anyone who wishes to write columns for the Innis Sports section is strongly urged (and more than welcome) to join the Sports staff. You can take a certain beat (i.e. football or hockey) or be a general assignment writer but whatever, please join up.

Look at it this way — for one or two hours a month you get to learn a bit about journalism and get a great resume filler. Come on up to the office and let's talk.

ATHLETIC LETTERS

Dear Students,

Due largely to the welcome support of the student body the past year, the future of the Co-ed Athletic programme at Innis looks better and better every day. The arrival of the new school year brings many challenges, which I am sure will be met with the greatest of enthusiasm on the part of the students of Innis College. I hope. Besides the more common sport activities such as Badminton, Basketball, Volleyball, etc. etc. special events like the annual and infamous Nummies Game will afford all members of the College an opportunity to participate. One such event is a Staff vs. Students volleyball tournament planned for the middle of October.

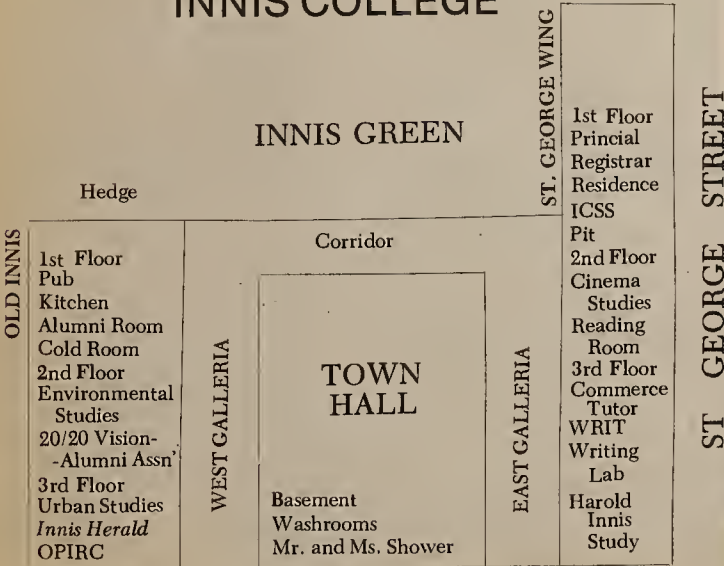

The Intramural Recreation Calendar defines Co-Ed Athletics as "loosely structured activities for the fun of playing and meeting other people", and if we all participate, we all will enjoy ourselves. See you out there...

Andre Czegledy

Co-Ed Athletic Representative, Innis.

INNIS COLLEGE

INNIS GREEN

JOIN THE U OF T OUTING CLUB

Biking, Canoeing
Caving, Camping
Hiking, Skiing
Rock Climbing, etc.

Team Sports
Equipment Discounts
EVERYONE Welcome
Cabin Weekends
Parties

Watch For Our On-Campus Booths

FALL GENERAL MEETING

And Come To The 7:00 P.M.
September 19, 1984
Medical Sciences
Auditorium

ORIENTATION CALENDAR 1984

INNIS COLLEGE STUDENT SOCIETY PRESENTS			1st YEAR 6	FRIDAY 7	SATURDAY 8	SUNDAY 9
			REGISTRATION last names beginning with A-L 9am-12 noon M-Z 2pm-5pm Scavenger Hunt 12:15 a contest designed to introduce you to important parts of the St. George campus. Prizes will be offered. Laurie-Lee Paul Outdoor BBQ 6 pm Innis Green a chance to meet Innis staff, faculty and other first year and "veteran" students. Food provided free. Vic Chaisson	INNISFREE -departure from Innis 6pm -light dinner upon arrival	FARM WEEKEND -breakfast -relax in the sun. Bring your swimsuit, baseball mitts, frisbees and other fun-gear. -all meals are provided, included in the small fee for the weekend (between $5 and $10). BYOB. -if you are driving to the farm, please contact the	-brunch around noon, mid-afternoon departure for Toronto. ICSS representative at Thursday's registration if you have any places in your vehicle. If you don't have wheels, you can sign up on Thursday for a ride. First come, first served.
MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY
10 classes start BLUE JAY BASEBALL the Jays battle the Yankees at Exhibition Stadium. Game time is 7:35 so we have to meet at Innis at 6pm SHARP; we will TTC our way down to the ballpark. Reserved seating is $2. You must reserve tickets on Thursday 6th with the ICSS representative at registration. First come first served. Mike Zryd	11 Pub Crawl! Gather at Innis Town Hall 7 pm In Town Hall, teams will be set up and assigned to group leaders. after that you hit the streets, keep evidence from the bars you visit and tally the results at the end. Costs are your own, dependant upon your thirst and finely honed sense of masochism. Pub Crawl! Tom Valvada	12 TORONTO DANCE CLUB Andre is your guide to a slice of underground Toronto and some great dancing. The only costs will be what you consume and the occasional cover charge. Meet outside Innis at 10 pm. Andre Czegledy	13 ALL NIGHT MOVIE NIGHT Featured Films: Bringing Up Baby Airplane Richard Pryor live 48 Hours an Officer and a Gentleman Educating Rita and much more! Tentative start: 8 pm Town Hall -bring your sleeping bag; we will provide a light breakfast. Simon Cotter	14 INNIS HERALD Coffee and Donuts 1-4 pm; Room 305 Staff Meeting	15 THE PARTY INNIS PUB 8 pm 1st years free Innis "vets" $1 non-Innis $2 Steve Gold	16 General Inquiries: Orientation Co-chairpersons: Michelle Bailly 978-6187 Scott Burk 978-7368

INNIS

Location - Phone	Postal Code
Vladimir 851 Spadina Ave. 1st Floor 3556 2nd Floor 3557 3rd Floor 6186 House Manager 6187	M5S 2H6
8 Sussex 977-7716	M5S 1J5
10 Sussex 977-6591	M5S 1J5
12 Sussex Day Care 593-1742	M5S 1J5
14 Sussex 977-7963	M5S 1J5
42 Sussex 1st/2nd Floor 591-1466 3rd Floor 977-4569
375 Huron 591-1329	M5S 2C5
12 Washington 598-1420	M5S 1L2
709 Spadina 597-0821	M5S 2J4
429 Brunswick 1st/2nd Floor 967-4820 3rd Floor 924-8927	M5R 2Z2
Innisfree Farm R.R. 1, Otterville, Ontario (519)-879-6858	N0J 1R0

Name	Room	Phone	Position
BROWNE, John	125	2510	Principal
CLARK, Flora	119	2513	Academic Counsellor
COTTER, Evelyn	314	4871	Librarian
HORNELL, Nancy	131	2511	Director, Writing Lab
KINC, David	118	2511	Assistant to Vice-Principal and Registrar
MAIATO, Lina	131	2511	Vice-Principal
McDONELL, Pat	123	8574	Registrar
PERRY, Audrey	124	2510	Secretary/Academic Math Counsellor
POULOS, Linda	120	2513	Administrative Co-ordinator
RITZ—MONROE,	131	2511	Associate Registrar
SPENCER, Carry	121	2512	On Leave
SPRY, Denise	117	7023	Residence Co-ordinator
ZANCARI, Gloria	122	2512	Secretary to Principal Receptionist
Pub FRIEND, M. (Fuzz)		4808	Secretary/Residence
ICSS BURK, Scott		7368
Vladimir BAILY, Michelle		6187/3557	President, ICSS House Manager

Instructor	Course	Office	Phone
ALLEN, Peter		IN325	6508
ARMATACE, K.	INI 225S	IN224	8572
	INI 322F
BINNIE, P.*		IN226	8572
BEAKHUST, C.		IN 206
BRYM, R.		IN 301	7463
CAMPBELL, M.	INI 320Y	IN206	7458
COTTER, E.	Director	IN314	4871
	Writing Lab
FITZGERALD,	INI 233Y	IN307	7434
			4136 TYP

CIBSON, B.	INI 320Y	IN206	7458
	INI 421Y
	POL 454Y
HAYNE, B.	INI 227Y	IN227	8574
HOWARD, J.	INI 206Y	IN321	7463
LUDMER, B.	COM	IN321	7463
	ECO
	Tutor
McDONELL, P.	Math	IN123	8571
	Tutor
OPIRC		IN302	3032
Lisa Dunn
PARKER, I.*		IN230	7271
			8975
PETERSEN, P.	INI 203Y	IN323
POWELL, D.	INI 220Y	IN207	7458
RIENDEAU, R.	INI 240Y	IN324	6508
	INI 202Y		4871
ROLPH, W.*		IN231	7271
Chairman			3357
Cinema
ROWEIS, S.		IN301	7433
Chairman
Urban
RUSSELL, P.*			3346
SAVAGE, H.	INI 336Y		2511
SAVAN, B.	INI 320Y	IN206	7458
	INI 420Y
SCHAFER, L.	INI 351F		2511
SCHELEW, M.	INI 336Y		2511
STEWART, A.	Writing Lab		4871
TESTA, B.	INI 112Y	IN233	8574
	INI 321Y
TOLTON, C.		IN227	3935
VALLEAU, J.		IN321	3935
WETZLER, R.	INI 220Y	IN207	7433
Chairman
Environmental
ZRYD, M.	Editor Innis Herald	in305	4748

Dirty with the Herald.

*Cross-appointed